

Generations of Family Farming

Peter Young, 1831-1914

Silas Young, 1884-1935

Robert Young, 1919-2009

1858	1885	1914	1935 - 1950's	1963 - 1980's	1997	2000's to Present
Peter Young sets out for California to meet his brothers at the height of the Gold Rush. After mining in El Dorado County, he purchases land and builds the family homestead in Alexander Valley.	Peter purchases the 210 uncultivated acres that flank the family homestead and cultivates the land as a working prune orchard to support his family.	Silas Young, Peter's youngest son inherits a portion of the family farm. Attributed to the stress of the Great Depression, Silas passes away at 51, leaving behind his wife Florence and their children, Robert and Marion.	Robert Young begins working the land of the family ranch as a sophomore at Healdsburg High School. He marries his high school sweetheart, Gertrude, and they have 4 children: JoAnn, Susan, Jim, and Fred.	Robert planted the first Cabernet Sauvignon in Alexander Valley on a few acres of pasture behind the old farmhouse. In the subsequent years, the property is completely replanted with premium wine grapes.	With their father's blessing, Robert Young Estate Winery was pioneered by Fred Young. Together with his siblings JoAnn, Susan, & Jim, they produced their first vintages of Estate Scion and Chardonnay are produced to spectacular reception.	Our portfolio of wine expands to include single varietal Merlot, Petit Verdot, Cabernet Franc, and Malbec. Bob's Burn Pile Cabernet Sauvignon is created and recognized as our pinnacle red wine.